BREAKING DAWN

When Dawn Olivieri was little she had dreams of becoming a veterinarian, but rapidly changed her mind when she realized that acting was her true passion. One day she decided to pack her bag and drive all the way from Florida (where she's from) to Tinseltown to be an actor. That was it! There was no plan B. After numerous appearances in many sitcoms, this stunning beauty finally landed a starring role opposite Don Cheadle and Kristen Bell in the Showtime series House of Lies. She's currently filming a movie which will be in theaters later this year. Grounded and talented, this ... exactly what she wants. When asked about her ... just live life, that's all I can hope for."
