Q: I don't have huge breasts—and I like it that way. But all the unpadded un-pushup bras are super un-sexy. Help!

A: It's true. It's a challenge to not look like the missing Girl Next Door if you want any kind of support in this world. And certainly if you want anything faintly pretty, feminine or sexy, the not-padded pickings get even slimmer. But the Cosabella New Soire mesh bra is not padded. Not itchy. And not sold in the training bra section (it has underwire). It comes in gorgeous colors. And has the same sexiness as the mesh underwear Scarlett Johansson wears in the beginning of Lost in Translation.
